Now's Your Chance: Join the Friends of Library

<https://www.loc.gov/programs/support-the-library-of-congress/ways-to-give/friends-of-the-library/?loclr=ealn>

Thank you for subscribing to our email bulletin services! We value your interest in the Library's programs and services and appreciate this opportunity to connect with you. As you finalize your year-end giving plans, please take one more opportunity to connect and consider a tax-deductible donation to the Library of Congress. You will become an inaugural member of Friends of the Library of Congress. As a Friend of the Library, you will join a growing philanthropic community that helps protect, preserve and diversify our nation's cultural record. And you will have unique, member-only opportunities to engage virtually and in person with the collections, curators and other Friends during the coming New Year. If you've joined our new Friends program, thank you very much! And if you haven't, here's how you can learn more about Friends of the Library of Congress and join today!?
