To all our friends and everyone considering homeschooling in Orange County, California: This month's Exploring Homeschooling in Orange County is a special introduction to homeschooling by Susan Beatty, founder of the Christian Home Educators Association of California. Today, Susan is a leader in the homeschool movement, but at one time she started too. Come learn for yourself or to introduce a friend to the how and why of private Biblical homeschooling. You will learn: What types of homeschooling options are available and which ones are the best for you. Different homeschooling teaching approaches, what they are, the pros and cons of each, and how they can be used in your family. A courses of study - what it is and how to develop one. How to set up your records so that you are compliant with state requirements or regulations. Some of the special things that you can do that other educational choices will not offer. The unexpected blessings to your family that come through private Biblical homeschooling. Susan will share from a wealth of experience, having homeschooled her own children and helped thousands of others learn about and succeed in homeschooling their own children. Susan and her husband Larry began CHEA of California and started homeschooling their three children in 1982. In addition, Susan ran an Independent Study Program from 1985 to 1998. She even found time to write An Introduction to Home Education manual. Susan and Larry have graduated all three children, the last child in 1998, and Susan has continued to be an integral part of CHEA, currently as a member of the board of directors, general manager, and events manager. Susan writes and speaks at workshops and conventions on home education, annual national leadership conferences on homeschooling, and is a founding board member of The National Alliance for Christian Home Education Leadership. As a spokesperson for the home education community, Susan is interviewed for radio, television, and newspapers. Susan is a professional writer/journalist with a BA degree (1971) from Cal State University Los Angeles and a graduate of CLASS (Christian Leaders and Speakers Seminars). If you are considering homeschooling, starting out, or just curious, this informative free seminar will be a true blessing. Get all the details here.
