JISHAKU!!! - ENDED!

<http://feedproxy.google.com/~r/blogspot/oKBh/~3/G-rhooXTWDU/jishaku.html>

Have you ever heard of Jishaku? Better yet, have you PLAYED Jishaku?? This game is the perfect combination of skill, strategy, and plain old LUCK. Jishaku is the Japanese word for "magnet," and the game centers around the game pieces, which are magnetized rocks! Each player places their game piece into the unique game board, hoping to collect their opponent's pieces! Think of it like a magnetized game of chess! Jishaku has won several awards, including: Jishaku Awarded National Parenting Seal of Approval "Cookie" magazine profiles Jishaku in September issue Click to see article Jishaku wins iParenting media Award Click here for the full release Jishaku wins "Major Fun Award" Click here to see the review JishakuTM wins Prestigious Mr. Dad Seal of Approval Click here for the full Press Release ... And it wins my family's seal of approval! All 4 of my kids LOVE this game. Actually, my 2 year old simply attempts to run off with the game pieces. But, the rest of it LOVE playing! It allows us to teach our children patience, strategy, chance! And now you can win your OWN copy of this fabulous game! In order to win your own Jishaku game... enter this giveaway!!
